8 EXPLANATION

9 The inclusion of this explanation does not constitute agreement with 10 the explanation's substance by the members of the general assembly.

11 This bill prohibits the weight on any one axle of a 12 self-propelled implement of husbandry used exclusively for 13 the application of organic or inorganic plant food materials,
14 agricultural limestone, or agricultural chemicals operated
15 on the highways from exceeding 25,000 pounds. Such a 16 self-propelled implement of husbandry must comply with the 17 other provisions of Code section 321.463 and Code chapter 321
18 when operated over a bridge, other than any provision limiting 19 the weight on any one axle to less than 25,000 pounds. The 20 bill authorizes a local authority to issue a special permit, 21 based on a statewide standard developed by the department of 22 transportation, allowing the operation over a bridge within 23 the local authority's jurisdiction of such a self-propelled
24 implement of husbandry with a weight in excess of the weights
25 allowed. A violation of Code section 321.463 is punishable
26 by a scheduled fine in the amounts set forth in Code section 27 321.463(11).

28 The bill repeals a provision authorizing overweight permits
29 for such self-propelled implements of husbandry originally 30 purchased or ordered prior to February 1, 2007, and strikes the 31 corresponding references to the provision.

32 Under Code section 321.1, an "implement of husbandry"
33 is a vehicle or special mobile equipment manufactured, 34 designed, or reconstructed for agricultural purposes and,
35 except for incidental uses, exclusively used in the conduct of

1 agricultural operations. "Implements of husbandry" includes
2 certain all-terrain vehicles, fence-line feeders, and vehicles
3 used exclusively for the application of organic or inorganic 4 plant food materials, organic agricultural limestone, or 5 agricultural chemicals. To be considered an implement of 6 husbandry, a self-propelled implement of husbandry must be 7 operated at speeds of 35 miles per hour or less.
